

Standard Maintenance and Support Terms

QuestObjects® Software
January 1, 2007

This document defines the level of Maintenance and Support provided to MasterObjects, Inc. Customers (called "Customers" below) who have purchased and fully paid for a QuestObjects Software License Agreement (called "SLA" below) that includes Premium Maintenance and Support on the Licensed QuestObjects® Software (called "Licensed Product" below) for a specific time period.

Definitions

1. "Licensed Product" means the software, hardware and corresponding documentation provided by MasterObjects as specified in a corresponding SLA purchased by the Customer.
2. "Upgrade" means a new version of the Licensed Product that contains additional functionality. Upgrades shall be identified by a change in the number to the left of the decimal point in the product name or number (e.g. Product x.0).
3. "Update" means a new version of the Licensed Product that contains bug fixes or minor enhancements. Updates shall be identified by a change in the number(s) to the right of the decimal point in the product name or number (e.g. Product 1.x.y).
4. "Maintenance Release" means a new version of the Licensed Product that contains minor bug fixes or enables the use of additional hardware or software support. Maintenance Releases shall be identified by a change in the text to the right of the last numeral in the product number (e.g., Product 1.0.0 build-xxx).
5. "Business Days" are calendar days excluding weekends, United States public holidays, and Dutch public holidays.

Maintenance and Support Terms

1. Customers may designate up to 2 (two) named persons who can file support requests by phone, fax, or email. MasterObjects provides no end-user support. Support requests are handled according to the Response and Resolution Timeframes table below.
2. Updates and Maintenance Releases of the Licensed Product are made available at no charge, other than shipping charges if applicable. Upgrades may be purchased at list price minus the original price of the previously licensed version of the Licensed Product and will incur a proportional increase of Standard Maintenance and Support fees. Corresponding software patches and deliverables are provided within 5 Business Days after their initial release.
3. MasterObjects is under no obligation to develop future versions of the Licensed Product or to add functionality unless this is specifically stated in the applicable SLA.
4. New products, customizations, modules and add-ons that add additional features and/or functionality to the Licensed Product offered separately by MasterObjects are NOT included in a current Maintenance and Support Agreement unless this is explicitly mentioned in the corresponding SLA.
5. Software deliverables may be made available only electronically.
6. Unless the applicable SLA states otherwise, a 90 (ninety) calendar day Performance Warranty Period is entered upon delivery of the Licensed Product or any update thereof.
7. MasterObjects is not obliged to repair possible errors after the Performance Warranty Period unless a maintenance agreement covering such repairs was concluded between the parties.
8. During the period covered by the Maintenance and Support Agreement, MasterObjects will commit the best of its abilities to eliminate program errors that have been reported in writing. Repairs will be carried out for free. MasterObjects may charge its going rates and repair costs if program faults were caused by usage errors or injudicious use by Customer or by other causes for which MasterObjects cannot be held accountable, or if the program errors could have been detected during the agreed Performance Warranty Period. This warranty does not apply to repair of damaged or lost data. The warranty expires if Customer modifies the software in any way or

- orders a third party to do so without written permission by MasterObjects.
9. Repair of program errors will take place at a location to be determined by MasterObjects. MasterObjects is entitled to implement temporary fixes or workarounds or impose software restrictions in order to avoid the program errors.
 10. MasterObjects is not responsible for correct operation of third party software or hardware, even if correct operation of MasterObjects software is hindered by the use of such third party software or hardware.
 11. MasterObjects will perform work during MasterObjects business hours unless this is otherwise agreed to in advance.
 12. MasterObjects reserves the right to change these terms by giving Customer notice 90 (ninety) calendar days before the end of the Maintenance and Support period.
 13. These Maintenance and Support terms are subject to additional terms and conditions that are part of the QuestObjects SLA as it was executed between Customer and MasterObjects.
